PREFACE

John W. Williams and his wife Elenor Duvall Williams moved to Ohio in 1831 with all their children except Ann who had married and remained in Maryland. Their grandchildren knew little about their antecedents except that they had lived in Maryland. One of them, James A. Williams (No.70), made a record for me of all he knew of the family in 1913 which has been a very great help.

The main difficulty in following the Williams line back to Joseph is the astonishing number of that name in the early records of Maryland. Many of them with identical Christian names came to this country before 1680 and the first census of 1790 lists 165 Williams as heads of families in Maryland, of whom 25 were named just plain John. Many early church records of baptisms, weddings and burials have been destroyed by fires in Maryland so that only a few of these were available. Where wills were found conveying property and listing children the path was easy and when no will was recorded, a search in court records and guardian accounts was made until the links in the chain were completed. Among the early arrivals in Maryland our Joseph is not listed and therefore his parents have yet to be discovered. He may have come in from some other State, been brought over as a baby or been born here, but his parents were undoubtedly Welsh or English and probably Quakers.

Collecting the records of this family has been a rewarding task, largely because of the material available at the Hall of Records at Annapolis, and the Maryland Historical Society in Baltimore, Maryland. I am most grateful for the kind assistance and interest given me in both these places, and thanks are due to the many cousins who have sent in information about the family now living and scattered all over the United States.

The numerical system used in this compilation gives each person an individual number. Where there are children of a marriage their numbers are listed under the parents together with a Roman numeral indicating the place in the family and then the numbers recur in proper sequence. Numerals following a name in brackets, refer to parents and grandparents back to number 5 for John W. Williams, all of whose descendents should eventually be included. From Joseph 1, we have followed a single line of descent to 5 and those numbers are the same for all.

First Generation

1. JOSEPH WILLIAMS, b. c.1660; d. March 1693, Calvert Co. Md. By his will of 1692, probated March 11, 1693 (MHR L.6,f.20 in the rear of Kent Co. Wills) Joseph left his property to his four children, James, Joseph, Richard and Mary. To his brother Benjamin's son Benjamin 250 acres of land lying in the forks of the Gunpowder River called by the name of Heathroll Cottage, and to John Robertson 2000 lbs tobacco. "My plantation in Sasifrax to be sold to pay my debts. The rest to my wife Edith, sole exec'tr and that my children live with my wife till they come of age." Edith Cromwell came to Maryland in 1680 with her brother Richard Cromwell. Her first husband was Christopher Gist by whom she had a son Richard. Christopher Gist died Feb.17, 1690 and she married Joseph Williams in 1692 a year before he died. She married a third time, John Beecher but that marriage was also brief as she died in 1694 and Benjamin, brother of Joseph, carried on the administration accounts for several years. These inventories list Joseph as late of Baltimore County and late of Cecil County as his properties were shown to be in these and Calvert Co. also. His will left each of his four children property, cows, calves, a mare, a negro man or woman, a flack bed and furniture. "I give to my son Richard one hundred acres of land called by the name of Hiccory Hills". The rent roll of A.A.Co. shows Richard Williams as possessed of 100 acres of Hickory Hills which was surveyed in 1667 for Robert Franklin- a tract of 550 acres, on the south side of the South River. This river empties into the Chesapeake Bay a few miles south of Annapolis.

The mother of Joseph's four children was Mary Robertson, widow of John Robertson. John Robertson left a will (Md. calendar of Wills 1, page 214) dated Mar.10, 1678/9 probated May 1, 1679, South River A.A.Co. "To wife Mary execx & son John". The estate was equally divided except land bequeathed to son John when he came of age. The said son to be sent to England, to testators brother Henry Blockson, should wife Mary die during his minority. Note above that Joseph in his will left 2000 lbs of tobacco to Mary's son John Robertson. A deed (W.H.#4, p.29) A.A.Co. dated July 6, 1684 shows that Joseph Williams sold property called Velmead, adjacent to Hickory Hills and on Mar. 9, came Mary wife of Joseph Williams and released her dower rights. Another record in which Robertson is probably misspelled Robinson reads- "to take ye oath of Joseph Williams and Mary his wife, ye relict of & ad'x of John Robinson" 1682 (MHR 12B. f.234 Testamentary Proceedings). The will of Christopher Gist 1690 left to John Robinson a two year old heifer and possibly Mary was a relative of his but her maiden name is not known. As John Robertson or Robinson died in 1679 this would be Mary's son John.

Of the four children of Joseph Williams we are to follow the third son Richard Williams.

Second Generation

2. RICHARD WILLIAMS, b. c.1686; d. Sept. 1768; m. Feb.14, 1709 to Eleanor Stockett. The first reference to Richard's early life was found in a court record (MHR.L.1,f.659) "At the court of her Sacred Majesty Queen Anne of England, held at Annapolis for the County of Annarundell in the Province of Maryland this ninth day of January in the third year of her said Majesties reign Anno 1704/5. Richard Williams petitioning to this Court that he may have liberty to choose a new guardian for that he formerly chose Richard Clark who proves not to be a guardian to him, hath liberty from the Court so to do." Next in the All Hallows Parish register (MHS) "Richard Williams was baptized at Riper years february the 14th 1709" and in the same register on the same date is recorded his marriage to Eleanor Stockett. Evidently our Richard had to be baptized in order to marry Eleanor in the Church of England. It is probable that he belonged to the Society of Friends. His property was near Davidson, then called New London, a famous old Quaker settlement on the South River and his Hickory Hills neighbors were Quakers. All Hallows Parish church was also in this vicinity.

Eleanor's ancestry is given in the Stockett Family booklet by Frank H. Stockett (MHR). Lewis Stockett, an officer in the household of Queen Elizabeth, of St. Stephens Paris, Kent, England, belonged to a long resident landed-gentry family of Saxon origin. His grandsons Lewis, Thomas, Henry and Francis were Church of England Royalists, faithful to the Queen and Charles II. After the defeat of the Royal Cause in 1651, they escaped to the continent and remained until amnesty was declared when they returned to England, gathered what they could from the wreck of their property and emigrated to the Province of Maryland in 1658 to commence life anew, bringing as many of their family and retainers as would follow. They obtained grants of land now in Harford County. Of these brothers, Thomas Stockett, known as Captain, b. 1623; d. 1671, had a patent for a tract of land called Bourne, married Mary Wells, daughter of Richard Wells, J.P. of Herring Creek, A.A.Co., and a governor of Maryland. Their son, also Thomas Stockett, b. 17/4/1667; d.1732; m. 12/3/1689 Mary Sprigg, daughter of Thomas Sprigg and Eleanor Nuthall, his wife. Thomas Sprigg came to Maryland in 1635. He was an officer in the Royal Lancers, Northamptonshire, England. His plantation in Maryland called Northampton was a 1000 acre estate on the "main branch of the dividing creek of the Patuxent River". Though the house is gone a road sign still shows the gateway leading to the famous gardens laid out by L'Enfant, who planned the City of Washington, and where both Lafayette and George Washington were visitors. The Stockett book gives this amusing anecdote of Thomas' courtship. "Tradition reports that when Thomas Stockett asked the consent of Mr. Sprigg to marry his daughter Mary, he refused, unless he would train and give him a water dog, equal to the one Thomas Stockett owned, and should also excell him in shooting on a match to be named. It is conceded he gratified both requirements for he obtained his daughter Mary for a wife."

Thomas Stockett left a will in 1732 providing for his two children- "and I give to my daughter Elleanor Williams, the wife of Richard Williams, a sylver Tankard & four sylver spoons which were her mother's"

The All Hallows Parish register records the baptisms of five of the eight children born to Richard and Eleanor but the sons Richard, Joseph and Stockett are not entered. Richard acquired considerable property in tobacco plantations. Beside his original 100 acres in Hickory Hills he bought 240 more acres there from William Richardson in 1734, got Williams Discovery in 1741, Waterford and the Slipe in 1743 and Huckleberry Bush, part of a tract called Waterford in 1743.

Richard Williams left a long and interesting will which was probated Sept. 13, 1768. "...my negro woman Sarah & my negro woman Jane & my negro man Tom are set free during their lives & I give them all my plantation whereon I now dwell with all my land adjoining known by the name of Hickory Hills & Franklings Enlargement during their lives & after their death my will is that it descends to my grandson Richard Williams, son of Stockett Williams and his heirs forever. I also give my negro woman Sarah one negro boy called Peter & at her death to descend to my grandson Richard Williams, son of Stockett & I give my negro woman Sarah one cow and calf, one sow & piggs during her life & at her death to descend with the increase to my grandson Richard, son of Stockett... I also give my negro Sarah a maintainance out of my estate for one year as also my two other negroes that I have set free shall be maintained out of my estate for one year. I also give my negro woman Sarah my new frying pan, one New England pott & hooks & one bed and furniture & I give the three negroes I have set free my plantation where Jacob Ebre now lives... known by the name of Waterford during their lives & after their decease to my grandson Cheney Williams, son of Stockett & his heirs forever.

Item- my will is that my son Stockett Williams have the care, management & Directing & looking after the aforesaid three negroes Sarah, Jane & Tom which I have set free, also the negro boy Peter that is devised to Sarah, Directing together with the said lands left to the said negroes which care and management and looking after is to be during the lives of the said negroes & for his so doing I give him a share of the crop that he and they can make yearly.

Item- I give to my son Richard Williams all that upper part or parcel of land lying on the Patuxent between my son Joseph Williams land and Huckleberry Bush where John Dale now lives & at his death to fall to my grandsons Joseph Williams and Richard Williams, sons of Joseph, to them and their heirs forever. I give and bequeath to my grandson Cheney Williams, son of Stockett Williams, all that tract of land called Huckleberry Bush to him and his heirs forever in the care of his Father till he becomes of age. I give and bequeath to my son Stockett Williams one negro man called Mingo. I give and bequeath to my granddaughter Sarah Eleanor Richardson, a negro boy called William. To my son Stockett Williams my silver Tankard and 6 silver spoons. I give and bequeath to my granddaughter Eleanor Welch one negro boy called John and the remainder to be equally divided amongst my heirs. Son Richard whole and sole executor."

Third Generation

3. STOCKETT WILLIAMS , b. c.1715; d. c.1776/7; m. Mary Waters Following Richard Williams' death his sons Richard and Stockett were at suit (MHR. Testamentary Proceedings A.A.Co. Vol.43,f.165 ) The case runs through four terms of court from Jan. 1769 to Sept. 1769. Stockett appears and deposes (a person of full age) "All I got of the goods and Chattels of Richard Williams deceased were 1231 lbs of tobacco and 7 & 20 bbls of corn & 4 bbls of nubbins". It was ordered by the Commissary General that Stockett Williams render and deliver up to Richard Williams ex'or of Richard Williams the several articles specified in the afore - said deposition as being property of the deceased. Order made out according and this cause was struck off.

Stockett left no will but his widow made an inventory of his estate,
Feb. 6, 1777 and a final account of it in 1778. (MHR.) He married Mary
Waters, daughter of John Waters who made a will in 1760 & 1768, probated Oct. 27, 1774 in which this item appears " I give & bequeath to my grandson John Williams, son of Stockett Williams, one negro girl called Cate". (PGCC-L.T-1,f-234) The Zimmerman, Waters & Allied Families book by Allen informs us that John Waters was the son of Samuel Waters and his second wife Sarah Arnold. He was born in 1698, lived at "Jericho" his plantation in Prince George County where he was a planter and County surveyor. In 1724 he married Charity Iams, daughter of William & Elizabeth Plummer Iams. The Queen Anne Parish register gives the baptisms of the 1st child of John and Charity Waters as Samuel, son born Jan. 28, 1726 and second Elizabeth born Jan 25-but the year not given. Elizabeth was married to Stockett Williams according to this book. However it was Mary who survived him and left a will (PGCC T-1,f.234) after the usual start she leaves her daughter Charity a negro boy, feather bed & furniture. To her daughter Ann Isaac a negro boy & "also my best feather bed"
"Item- I give and bequeath to my sons John Williams, Richard Williams and William Williams and my daughters Charity Williams and Ann Isaac all the remaining part of my estate that I have not already given to be equally divided between them, their heirs and assigns forever."
"Item- I do hereby constitute, nominate and appoint my sons, John Williams and Richard Williams sole executors of this my last will and testament, revoking, disannulling and making void all other wills heretofor made by me. In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and affixed my seal this second day of February 1786. Probated April 18, 1786.

For Stockett's son Cheney Williams there is a will, A.A.Co. 1776 (MHR) making brother John his sole executor & giving land to brother William, plantation of Patuxent, and to brother Richard personal estate, rents and debts.

Fourth Generation

4. JOHN WILLIAMS, b. ; d. 1792 P.G.Co., Md.; m. Mary----

The census of 1790 in P.G.Co. lists John Williams with two males over 16 including himself, two males under 16, wife, two daughters and 9 slaves. On Dec. 3, 1791 under manumissions (PGCC 1d-of.L-JRM,f,184) John Williams and Mary his wife freed their 10 slaves when they arrived at specified ages, the negro woman Cate then 32 years when she became 35. Then come Francis, Charlie, Thomas, George, Anne, Jeffrey, Priscilla, Sarah & Paul, the last being one year old must have missed the census. Cate at 32 was born in 1759 just a year before John Waters started his will and left her to his grandson John. We can only guess at John's birthdate c.1750. With 25 John Williams given in the 1790 census we have been unable to determine which of the various marriages for John Williams belongs to this particular man. Several by the name served in the Revolution also but again there is no way of knowing which one, if any, was our John.

John Williams and his brother Richard both died intestate but a few Chancery court cases settling debts and estate matters definitely belonged to them. One dated Aug. 24, 1798, (MHR-Ld-of.L.41,f.750-778) was a suit by Peter Brown, Findley Hopkirk & Co., Merchants in Great Britain and other creditors against the heirs of John Williams, with statements of debts exhibited. One bill is from the Bladensburg store of Peter Brown, Findley Hopkirk & Co., running over three years and interesting for the items the family had used, including frequent purchases of rum. Another was a shoemakers bill "for making shoes for deceased's son John, 2.6" and for "sons Samuel and John 5.6". Exhibit 3 gave "John Williams, of Stockett," which left no doubt about which John this one was. Bills from Dr. Pottinger and Dr. John Stewart were included, the latter one ending abruptly in 1792 - thus:

June 9, 1792 visit in the night

" 10 " and medicine

" 11 "

And paid on account for this one	8 young geese	1 bu. turnips
	1 bu. apples	26 $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. mutton
	4 $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. shoat	10 $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. lamb

And paid to Elizabeth Walker, midwife, for account proved & Receipt 2.2.6

"No part of said debts have ever been paid and the personal estate of John Williams is wholly exhausted without payment of your orators debts. John Williams died in 1792 in Prince George County leaving a considerable real estate in Prince George and Montgomery Counties to descend to his children and heirs at law, Samuel, John, Mary, Elizabeth and William Williams, all of whom are now under the age of 20 except Samuel, and that the testators brother William Williams became his administrator in due form of law..... It is requested that the real estate of John Williams be sold to pay the debts". This was ordered done and advertised. May 18th, 1799 - "Public notice in Georgetown and Baltimore news-papers that he would sell on the 5th day of December last several tracts of land in Prince George Couty to wit;- the land called Parcel enlarged, part of a tract called Beck's addition, part of another tract called Osburn's Lot and part of a tract called Pleasant Grove, containing in

Nathan Waters purchased the 1st parcel for £ 969.9.2

John Brashears purchased the 2nd " for £ 970.8.1

This case was closed Oct. 31, 1801. The payments were made to the creditors out of the money arising from the sale of the real estate and the balance was divided among the heirs.

To Sam'l Williams, one of sd heirs for his share of surplus	£ 303.15.5 2/5
To John Williams	ditto £ 303.15.5 2/5
To Mary Williams	ditto £ 303.15.5 2/5
To the Guardian of Elizabeth and of William Williams
two of said heirs each	£ 303.15.5 2/5
	£ 607.10.11 4/5

John Williams and Mary were then of age in 1801 as well as Samuel, only Elizabeth and Williams still under 20 and in care of a guardian. John W. Williams born Feb. 14 1780 would have been 21 years at this time.

Another case was a complaint brought by these same children, orphans of John Williams, against his brother Richard's widow Elizabeth, (who had married Isaac Iams Aug. 4, 1795) and her children Rebecca, Elizabeth and Richard Williams for a just division of some property which had been held jointly by John and Richard Williams - deeded by Francis Freeland, "Richard and John" 1789-90 (PGCC.Ld-of.TT2-f.78) The brothers had agreed to a division and had a plat and survey made but John died before it was released leaving his brother Richard in possession of all the land. The original papers, copies of the deeds, plats and releases prepared with the penciled notes made by John and Richard are at the Hall of Records Land Office. (MHR.Ld-of.L.40,f.578-80.) This case was settled in favor of John's orphans with the proviso that "liberty be reserved for each of the said infant defendants within six months after he or she shall attain full age of 21 years... shew cause .. ought not to have been ordered and on sufficient cause... be entitled to a reconveyance."

John's brother William Williams had acted as guardian to the orphans. He had married Ruth Beck Dec. 11, 1792. By 1808 James Beck was filing the guardian accounts in the court because William Williams had died. We find the first reference among these transactions to JOHN W. WILLIAMS who became the guardian of his younger brother William, Jan. 2, 1810 "Current Money due from the deceased (i.e. William Williams) to William Williams orphan of John as his former guardian and paid to John W. Williams his present guardian". Money was also paid from this account to Beale Duvall and Elizabeth his wife, who may have boarded the young William. Marriage records P.G.Co., show that Beale Duvall, who had lost his first wife Marjorie Belt, married Elizabeth Williams on April 11, 1806. Beale Duvall was already a brother-in-law to John W. Williams as his sister Elenor married John in 1802. Beale and his brother Barton were twins born in 1776 and Barton had married Hannah Isaac, granddaughter of Stockett Williams and first cousin of John W. Williams in 1811 so the Williams and Duvall families were closely linked.

The study by Williams (1988) shows that the average age of the population in the United States is 32 years, with a median age of 28 years. This is a significant increase from the 1970s when the average age was 24 years and the median age was 21 years.

The study by Williams (1988) also shows that the average age of the population in the United States is 32 years, with a median age of 28 years. This is a significant increase from the 1970s when the average age was 24 years and the median age was 21 years.

Fifth Generation

5. JOHN WATERS WILLIAMS, b. Feb. 14, 1780 Maryland; d. Apr. 19, 1838 at Mechanicsburg, Ohio, m. Feb. 17, 1802 to Elenor Duvall, daughter of Sam'l. John W. Williams, orphan of John and guardian of William Williams, left a few other records of his life in Maryland. In a suit brought by Chas. Duvall against Nathan Waters (MHR Ld-of.Chancery record L.RW 139.f.309) concerning the sale of certain lands, John W. Williams, age 48, June 9, 1828, being interrogated said, "I know them all. I have known old Nathan Waters I'll say 30 years, Nathan I. Waters 15 years and Samuel Ratoliff 3 or 4." Part of the property in question, the land called Osborn Lot, Becks Addition, and Parcel Enlarged being land Nathan Waters had bought from the heirs of John Williams 29 years before. Another part, Pleasant Grove is often mentioned in Duvall family records as it was the plantation of Mareen Duvall the younger, where he died about 1741. Originally it was a large tract of 1632 acres but divided among heirs it was gradually cut up. In the suit against Nathan Waters it is given as "all that part of a tract or parcel of land called The Pleasant Grove which lyeth on the east side of a public road that leads by an old smith shop formerly occupied by Charles Wood and Seth Hyatt, except 20 acres of said land in the woods." One Williams family bible gives the birth of Richard Duvall Williams, son of John W. Williams and Elenor Duvall at "Pleasant Grove" in 1815.

The Militia Appointments for Prince George County (MHR. L 2,f.42,136) The Company and Staff officers of the 34th Regiment, Prince George Co. lists John Williams August 27, 1808 as Ensign (2nd Lieutenant) then John W. Williams July 24, 1813 promoted- Lieutenant. This period covers the War of 1812 but what service the 34th Regiment rendered has not been ascertained.

On April 7, 1817 by a recorded deed (PGCC.Ld-of JRM 17,f.247) Beale Duvall sold a tract of land to John W. Williams which was part of New Birmingham Manor. Snowden's New Birmingham Manor was part of the original Snowden grant of 16,038 acres in the Laurel,Md. area of today where the Patuxent river flows under the B & O R.R. There was an iron boundary cast for this purpose "Here begins Snowdens New Birmingham Manor." It was divided into three parts on the east side of the main branch of the Patuxent. One part sold to Richard Iams, Jr. in 1742..it included Waters Purchase, Williams Range, the Richard and John and The Ralpho by the north side of Duvall's branch just below the fork of the said branch where is now piped an iron boundary inscribed "Here begins 2nd part of S.N.B.M.". John W. Williams paid 768 £ & 15 s for his acreage and we find it again among the deeds when it was sold by John W. Williams and his wife Elenor Williams of Champaign County, Ohio, to Edward Hall for $1500. Dec. 13th, 1832. (PGCC Ld-of. L.AB-7,f.533)

The Duvall family goes back to the Huguenot, Marin Duvall, who was brought to Maryland by William Burgess and in 1659 demanded 50 acres" for having performed his term of service with John Cenell" (or Covell). He settled on the south side of the South River and called his plantation La Vall (MHS L 4,f.60). The Duvalls of Maryland have been written up by several members of the family. Marin or Mareen married three times and had 12 children. By the first wife he had a son Mareen who married Frances Stockett, aunt of our Eleanor(2). All Hallows Parish register records "Murrene, the son of Murrene & ffrances Duvall his wife was borne the 24th day of Octr Anno Dom 1687 in the pish of All Hollowes, South River". (MHS) By his second wife he had Mareen, the younger, of Great Marsh who was born about 1680. He married Oct. 21, 1701 Elizabeth Jacob, daughter of Captain John Jacob. They lived at "The Grove" near Collington, Md. where the present St. Barnabas Church is located. The fourth child of Mareen and Elizabeth Jacob was Samuel Duvall, born Nov. 27, 1707; died Nov. 1775. Samuel married 5/16/1732, Elizabeth Mullikin, daughter of James and Charity (Belt) Mullikin. The fifth child of Samuel and Elizabeth was Samuel Duvall, born July 9, 1740; died in 1804. He married in 1760 Mary Higgins, sister of Sam Higgins and they were the parents of 13 children. This Samuel was a private in the 2nd Maryland Regiment from 1778-79 according to D.A.R. records. Sharf's History of Maryland states that he was appointed quartermaster of the Revolutionary Army. Of their 13 children Barton and Beale were noted on page 6 as they were related to Elenor and John W. Williams, a younger sister of Elenor was Ann Duvall who married Frederick P. Jones (MHR marriage records) on Dec. 5, 1809. They moved to Georgetown about 1813 and in 1836 the oldest son Dr. Thomas Jones moved with his widowed mother to Mechanicsburgh, Ohio where his aunt Mrs. John W. Williams was living. Of the other Jones children a sister Mary married Rezin Ferguson and moved to Piqua, Ohio, one of whose grandchildren was F.C. Yohn the illustrator, John Walter Jones moved to Fort Dodge, Iowa and M. H. Jones to Piqua, Ohio.

Samuel Duvall's will of 1804 listing his 13 children gave Elenor's name as Elender. She herself in signing the deed of sale to Edward Hall wrote her name as Elenor. She was born May 31, 1732 in Maryland and died in Mechanicsburg, Ohio March 5, 1842.

On the move to Ohio, Mrs. Frederick Clemans (No. 95) provided a newspaper account written for the local Mesbg paper by her grandfather Richard Duvall Williams in 1881. "It is fifty years ago tomorrow, the 25th day of November, since my father John W. Williams and my mother Eleanor Williams, with their family arrived in this village, having left home, in the State of Maryland November 3, 1831, and except father and mother, the former who died in 1838 and the latter in 1842, all of the children who emigrated to this State- seven in number- are still alive; four brothers and three sisters, namely Samuel the eldest (who preceeded the family a year of two) and now lives in Chicago, Ill. and is 75 years of age; Ellen Curl who has been in the lunatic asylum in Illinois for a number of years, hopelessly insane; William, Richard and James reside with their families here; Rachel, widow of the late Jonathan Cheney, and Emily, wife of Thomas Morgan, also live in this place. All these children have raised large families. To mention their names would make this sketch too long. It is a remarkable providence that all of us have lived so long and with the exception indicated, enjoy an unusual degree of health and natural vigor. My oldest sister Ann, who was the wife of Dr. William Hammond of Annapolis, Md., died there in 1865. We are devoutly grateful to our Heavenly Father for all His mercies to us." R.D.W.

Duncan McArthur Williams (No. 26) son of Samuel and grandson of John W. Williams also wrote of his impressions of this trip in a letter dated Oct. 21, 1909 from Fowler, Ind., to his cousin James A. Williams (No. 70) "I will relate how our grandparents looked to me. Though I was quite young I distinctly recollect that grandfather was tall, spare, dark complexion, straight black hair, quite devotional and pious. He died comparatively young, aged 54 years. Grandmother was quite stout (fleshy) light complexion, light hair with few freckles. Dr. James Williams resembled grandmother more than any other of the family while Aunt Rachel favored her father. My parents came from Maryland in 1828 in a "dandy wagon", a springless vehicle with low pannelled sides, drawn by "old Charley" a black horse bought of Rezin Ferguson of Washington City- a relative. Their belongings were packed away in a hair trunk and an ample carpet bag. They bought a home near Woodstock where brother John and myself were born, about 17 miles from C.W. Fairbanks' birthplace. Not feeling at ease among the New England neighbors they sold out and bought the "sugar bottom" farm, where the balance of my family were born. Grandfather came out about six years after Father came, with three sons and three daughters, all unmarried, leaving in Maryland, Aunt Ann who had married a Doctor Hammond. These all have been laid to rest, to come forth at the final trump. I regret that I do not know more of the history of our family though I know that our grandfather was an officer in the War of 1812 and was a ship carpenter by trade, lived on and sold a farm in Prince George Co. Maryland before moving to Ohio. From my father I learned that the Williams part of our family were English. I have long had an impression that Nellie Duvall, our grandmother, was of French extraction." The sugar bottom farm which D. McA. Williams refers to was about four miles from Mosbg, near Catawba, Ohio.

Another letter from the same to the same "My plan in perfecting a family record is to begin with our grandparents bringing it down with the personal mention of their children and their children's children. I find this matter of compiling a family tree is no light matter. It involves much correspondence and I anticipate difficulty obtaining reliable data. For instance we had in Maryland an Aunt Ann, who married Dr. William Hammond whom I presume ended his days on a farm some three miles northwest of Annapolis, Md. During the winter of 1851-2 I visited them for two or three weeks. There was several daughters in their teens and one son about my age. They were all flaxen<sup>haired</sup>, bordering closely on the auburn and in some instances approaching a more brilliant hue, and for the life of me I can not recall the name of one of those cousins. Can you suggest any way to open communications with any members of this family? And there is our Aunt Ellen Curl who lived this life with a broken heart. She and hers must have kindly mention. I feel I can get what I want from some member of this family as their home was Paris, Ill. only 100 miles from Fowler. You mention our grandmothers name as Elenor. She was always addressed by our cousins the Joneses as Aunt Nellie and having a daughter Ellen my conclusion was that her name was Ellen. If you have any definite knowledge as the right name I would be pleased to have it."

The children of John W. Williams & Elenor Duvall Williams were:

11. RACHEL WILLIAMS, ( 5) b. Apr.6, 1817, Md; d.Oct.8,1883 Mcsbg,O. she m.Apr.28, 1836, Jonathan Cheney by Alex Morrow M.G. Mcsbg. (OSL) He died Mar. 18,1864 and is buried with wife, Mcsbg Cemetery.

An excerpt from the Cheney genealogy sent by Mrs.E.H.McCloud (No.179) tells us " The family tradition further relates that Thomas Cheney(Mass) after the Revolutionary War, moved to Virginia, into Loudon County,where he married Keturah Owen; that four of his sons, William,Ebenezer, Benjamin & Jonathan emigrated about the beginning of the 19th century and settled in what is now the east end of Champaign County. Benjamin married Sarah Cochran in Va. and they made the trip to Ohio on horseback. They settled in Union Township, Champaign Co. He and his wife died in 1834 of typhoid fever, which had proved such a scourge to his family. He was clerk of the election to organize Champaign Co. and afterwards represented the County in the State Legislature 1828-29. At his death he left an estate of 1560 acres of land and 5 sons surviving him, to wit:- James, Jonathan, Samuel, Benjamin and John." This is the Jonathan who married Rachel Williams. At the time of his death,1864, he was a member of the State Legislature of Ohio.

13. JAMES WILLIAMS, (5) b. May 31,1822 Md.; d. July 9,1888 Mcsbg and buried there with two wives. Dr. James Williams had an announcement in a hand written Mcsbg paper of Sept.30,1843 (deposited in Ohio State Museum,Columbus, O.) in which he "would respectfully inform friends & the public generally that he has located himself in Mechanicsburg,O. where he designs practicing medicine and surgery After having through a regular course of study and Graduated in the Ohio Medical College & some months practice he feels confidant that he is prepared to discharge the duty of Physician & Surgeon.N.B. Office on west side of Main St.,one door east of Ware & McCorkle store where he may always be found except absent on proffesional business."

In May 1850, in company with friends and neighbors, he made a trip overland to California, reaching Sacramento Aug.19, 1850. Two letters of this trip remain( deposited in the Ohio State Museum, Columbus,O.) On his return he went into politics, was elected to the Legislature in 1851. As a delegate to the Republiocan convention he helped nominate Lincoln. He was believed to be a volunteer in the Union Army stationed in West Va. for which he afterward refused a pension.

1. The first thing I noticed when I stepped out of the plane was the cold air. It was a sharp contrast to the warm, humid air of the tropics. I had heard that the weather in the north was harsh, but I didn't realize just how cold it would be. The wind was biting, and the sun was a pale, distant orb in the sky. I wrapped my coat around myself and shivered. The ground beneath my feet was a mix of snow and ice, and the trees were bare and skeletal. I had never seen anything like this before. The people I met were dressed in heavy coats and hats, and they spoke in a language I didn't understand. I felt like an outsider in a strange land. The first few days were a blur of activity. I had to get used to the new environment, the new people, and the new way of life. It was a challenge, but I knew I had to adapt if I wanted to survive. I started to learn the language, and I began to understand the customs of the people. I was slowly becoming a part of the community. The cold was still there, but it didn't bother me anymore. I had found my place in this new world.

He worked in the office of the Auditor of State for Ohio for about 25 years, serving as Auditor from 1872-80. He built a house on North 4th Street, Columbus, where he lived until he retired to live in Mosbg and where he died and was buried. Part of an obituary published in a Columbus paper says "As a politician he was probably as well known as any man in Ohio, numbering his acquaintances and friends by the thousand in both parties. He was a Whig until the formation of the Republican party which he immediately joined upon its organization. He was Secretary of the Republican State Executive Committee of Ohio for many years. He devised the plan for securing the soldier vote in 1863-64 and was one of the commissioners appointed to canvass it.... He was noted for his genial and kindly disposition and was a famous story teller, being a second Abraham Lincoln in this regard. He enjoyed a great reputation as a political statistician and his prognostications at election times were eagerly sought for all over the State. Although he served the State for twenty-five years he quitted its service a comparatively poor man, his incorruptible honesty and integrity never allowing him to take advantage of many opportunities to amass a fortune.... In his younger days he was quite prominent in Masonic circles."

Dr. James Williams married twice, daughters of Andrew Staley of Mosbg and Mary Shepherd who was a daughter of Abraham Shepherd, a Newlight preacher who had moved with his family from Kentucky to Ohio in 1811 in order to live in a free State. Andrew Staley was born in Sheperdstown Va. in 1792. He came to Ohio in 1820. Having walked from Sheperdstown to Pittsburgh, he came down the Ohio river on a flat boat to Cincinnati, from where he worked his way up the Miami river working at his trade of millwright. He assisted in building numerous mills along the way, building finally a mill at Mechanicsburg which became his property. He continued in the milling business up to the time of his death in 1875.

Introduction

The purpose of this study is to investigate the effects of various factors on the growth and development of the human body. The study is based on a comprehensive review of the literature and a series of experiments conducted over a period of six months. The results of the study are presented in the following sections.

The first section discusses the importance of nutrition in the growth and development of the human body. It is well known that a balanced diet is essential for the proper functioning of the body. The study found that a diet rich in vitamins and minerals promotes healthy growth and development. On the other hand, a diet deficient in these nutrients can lead to stunted growth and various health problems.

The second section deals with the role of exercise in the growth and development of the human body. Regular physical activity is known to strengthen the muscles and bones, improve the cardiovascular system, and enhance the immune system. The study found that individuals who engage in regular exercise grow faster and develop stronger bones than those who are sedentary.

The third section examines the influence of sleep on the growth and development of the human body. Sleep is a crucial time for the body to repair and regenerate itself. The study found that individuals who get enough sleep grow faster and have better overall health than those who are sleep-deprived.

The fourth section discusses the impact of stress on the growth and development of the human body. Chronic stress can have a negative effect on the body's growth and development. The study found that individuals who experience high levels of stress grow slower and have weaker bones than those who are less stressed.

The fifth section presents the results of the experiments conducted over a period of six months. The study found that a combination of a balanced diet, regular exercise, and adequate sleep leads to the fastest and healthiest growth and development of the human body. The study also found that chronic stress and a diet deficient in vitamins and minerals can significantly hinder growth and development.

In conclusion, the study has shown that a combination of a balanced diet, regular exercise, and adequate sleep leads to the fastest and healthiest growth and development of the human body. The study also found that chronic stress and a diet deficient in vitamins and minerals can significantly hinder growth and development. These findings have important implications for the health and well-being of individuals of all ages.

NOTE: Family records are important. Please keep adding to this list. When you find an error in my work, I would appreciate it if you would send me the correct data for the master copy so that if and when it is reprinted, your family will be properly recorded. Any additional information you care to send will be included.

Information is particularly wanted on any descendents of # 6, the Hammonds, # 7 Samuel Williams and # 8 the Curl family.

Oct. 21, 1949.
